

Recent uploads to martindigitalhistory.org:

Indiantown Collection

Sandra Thurlow has contributed a box of negatives, including many aerial photographs of the Indiantown area from as early as the 1950s, including the groves, farms, and the town; Indiantown Development Company event photos; migrant housing; the 1974 dedication of the water treatment plant; FP&L equipment; and a children's theater performance.

Aerial of Indiantown, c. 1960

Aerial of Westbury Farms, 1965

Delivering boxes of food, 1960

Recent uploads to martindigitalhistory.org:

Morton Foster Collection

Also from Sandy Thurlow is a set of negatives from photographer Morton H.C. "Mort" Foster Jr. (1922-2005), who worked as a linotype operator at the Asbury Park Press in Indiantown and at the Southeastern Printing Company. He was also an accomplished photographer, with many event photographs and portraits printed in local publications, including the Stuart News. His wife, Katherine Foster (1922-2006), taught first grade at both J.D. Parker and Jensen Beach Elementary Schools and many photos in this collection include student activities.

Lifeguard on a roof, c. 1965

Kindergarten students, 1969

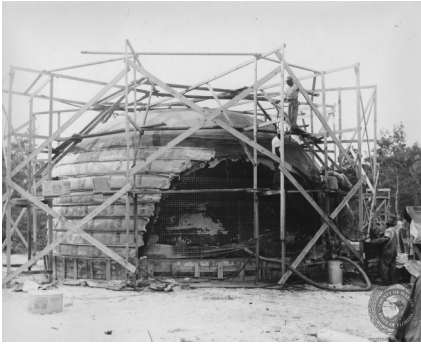

Two singers in a talent show, c. 1968

Recent uploads to martindigitalhistory.org:

Stuart Heritage Museum Digital Content

Thank you to the Stuart Heritage Museum for sharing their collection of DVDs with digital images. Among them are at least 5,000 historic images. Each digital image will be assessed for quality, researched, and renumbered over the next few weeks and many will be added to Martin Digital History. This month, we have added some photos of Hobe Sound bubble house construction, Christmas parades, the Lyric Theatre, and images of the writer Charles H. Coe.

Hobe Sound Bubble House

Goat drawn cart in front of the Lyric

Hungarian refugees in front of the Lyric

Christmas parades and decorations

*Portrait of Captain Charles Henry Coe (1856-1954)
at Peck's Lake, the Buccaneer in the distance. Capt.
Coe was a newspaperman, writer, and amateur archeologist.*

Recent uploads to martindigitalhistory.org:

Stuart Heritage Museum Palm City Material

Within the museum's bin on Palm City was an exciting array of photographs. Many were used in Sandra Thurlow's new book, A Pictorial History of Palm City, Florida.

Two panoramas by Harold "Abe" Anderson Lincoln (1880-1969) of Palm City in about 1920.

View from Palm City bridge, 1987

The old Palm City bridge in front of the new bridge, 1970

Palm City Store, 1947

Sign for the future Palm City library, c. 1994

Interested in Martin County history? Visit and subscribe to the Sandy History Lady Blog, written by our very own Sandra Thurlow.

Martin County Library spotlight:

Idea {memory} Lab

Did you know that we can help you digitize your own family photographs?

More information at: <https://www.martin.fl.us/idea-memory-lab>

Martin County Library spotlight:

LinkedIn Learning

Did you know that you can access courses and earn professional certifications online?

Visit: <https://www.linkedin.com/learning-login/go/mcls>

What is the Martin Digital History Project?

The mission of Martin Digital History (MDH) is to encourage the appreciation of Martin County's unique history by collaborating with community members and local organizations to collect, present, and interpret relevant digital content. This project, orchestrated by the Martin County Library System, is the result of the planning teamwork of several far-sighted community members and organizations, including Sandra Thurlow, Black Heritage Initiative, Stuart Heritage, The Library Foundation of Martin County, and many others. It is open for public participation.

- This newsletter will attempt to keep all informed about the project, including new participants and accessions, plans, events, etc. Click here to subscribe to this newsletter.
- More information: martindigitalhistory.org
- Feedback, comments, questions? Contact the archivist: Georgen Charnes, gcharnes@martin.fl.us

This document may be reproduced upon request in an alternative format by contacting the County ADA Coordinator (772) 320-3131, the County Administration Office (772) 288-5400, Florida Relay 711, or by completing our accessibility feedback form at www.martin.fl.us/accessibility-feedback